AN OPERA OF A NEW GENRE

An opera in (almost) one act, "Cellar Door" features some ten characters on the fringes of a variety of practices, disciplines, and areas of knowledge. Together they conjure up the outlines of a unique aesthetic production which includes pyrotechnics, geodesic domes, and bubbles of black champagne. The book simultaneously plays the role of a libretto, a guide to exploring a series of the artist's exhibitions, and a coded score giving access to an improbable Studio—(almost) that of Loris Gréaud.

Libretto by Raimundas Malasauskas and Aaron Schuster. Music by Thomas Roussel.

Loris Gréaud is an artist living in Paris. With DGZ Research (Dölger, Gréaud, Ziakovic), he has developed Celador®, a candy with a taste of illusion.
