DESCRIPTION

To celebrate the new printing of "Everything In The Universe is Unfinished", first published in 2017, "i ii iii Stamp" (2017/2024), an artwork by Yoko Ono, is being released for the first time as a limited edition print. The print comes in an envelope with the artist book.

The instructional text written on this letterpress print "This stamp can be used anywhere in the world," echoes the sentiments of Nutopia, a conceptual country created by Yoko Ono and John Lennon in 1973.

In a joint letter, "Declaration of NUTOPIA", they envisioned a new country with "...no land, no boundaries, no passports, only people."

"i ii iii Stamp" also incorporates Ono's 2004 work "ONOCHORD", a universal message of "I LOVE YOU" transmitted by a code of blinking lights: i for I, ii for Love, and iii for You.
